

November 10, 2025: On the Absolute Fear of a Criminal Running the USA

I am recording that every single instance of legal work that I attempt to produce is being met with an acoustic agitation inside of my home.

I am recording for the public to see and witness exactly how fearful Donald Trump has become of the legal filings that await him in the future.

I will not be subjected to a 'torturous' path of justice full of faults and harm to my mental and physical well-being.

As long as this continues to occur, I will continue to document it.

I will bring this matter to the courts when this constant disruption ends.

There is no place for spying, harmful agitations, threats, and persistent disruptions in the path of true and actual justice.

I have already documented this for nearly four years now.

I am prepared to continue to document this as a personal journal of the disruption that this has caused in my home and work life for as long as necessary to pursue this matter into a proper court of law.

I am prepared to wait to file this matter against the Estate of Donald J. Trump, if necessary, to obtain justice in a way that is not harmful to my personal well-being.

This is the current state of justice under Donald Trump's criminal empire.
